Agency overview

The NSW Police Force (NSWPF) vision is for a Safe and Secure New South Wales, which is achieved by police working with the community to reduce violence, crime and fear.

It is one of the largest police forces in the western world, with more than 20,000 NSW Police Force employees, including more than 16,000 sworn officers providing a range of law and order services 24 hours a day, seven days a week to the socially, geographically and culturally diverse community of NSW.

The organisation has five function lines, based across a number of locations. Metropolitan Field Operations and Regional NSW Field Operations provide frontline services directly to the community. Investigations & Counter Terrorism provides investigative, technical and counter terrorism expertise. Specialist Support provides an operational support function along with a range of specialised services. The fifth function line, Corporate Services, provides business support services such as technology and communication, education and training and corporate human resources functions.

The NSWPF Statement of Values and Code of Conduct & Ethics outlines appropriate behaviour for all NSW Police Force staff. All employees of NSWPF are expected to ensure ethics are incorporated into all aspects of their work making ethical behaviour, practices and decision making a part of daily routine. This further extends to ensuring confidentiality and information security is maintained at all times.

Work, Health and Safety legislation requires all employees to have specific responsibilities. This role is responsible for following all NSWPF health and safety policies, and taking all reasonable care that their actions or omissions do not impact on the health and safety of others.

Primary purpose of the role

The Administrative Officer provides a broad range of administrative services and leverages extensive command/business unit knowledge to support the business area's program of work and facilitate the delivery of business operations.
