Agency Overview

The NSW Department of Education serves the community by providing world-class education for students of all ages.

We ensure young children get the best start in life by supporting and regulating the early childhood education sector. We are the largest provider of public education in Australia with responsibility for delivering high-quality public education to two-thirds of the NSW student population. We are committed to fostering vibrant, sustainable and high-performing vocational and higher education sectors.

We are responsible for enacting NSW Government policy, driving improvement in education, and overseeing policy, funding and compliance issues relating to non-government schools. We respect and value Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as First Peoples of Australia.

The Teacher Supply and Workforce Strategy branch leads and coordinates critical workforce strategies and projects for the Department, ensuring alignment with departmental reform directions, enhancing cross-divisional work and stakeholder engagement, and managing consistent reporting to Executive and responsible Ministers. The branch was established in response to an increased number of workforce reform initiatives and executive priority projects in School Workforce including boosting the supply of quality teachers.

Primary purpose of the role

The Strategy Project Officer performs project management and support activities to contribute to the development and delivery of a range of strategies and projects in line with established objectives.
