Agency overview

The Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development (DPIRD) is the department dedicated to growing primary industries and supporting regional economic development to deliver long term benefits to the state. Our focus is to protect, support and develop our primary industries, mining sector, and regions.

DPIRD brings together Agriculture and Biosecurity; Fisheries and Forestry; Local Land Services; NSW Resources; Regional Development and Delivery; the Regional Growth NSW Development Corporation; NSW Public Works and Soil Conservation Service.

We have nearly 5,000 employees, with almost 80 per cent of us living and working in regional NSW.

The Strategy, Media and Ministerial Services Group (SMMS) oversights a cohesive approach to Departmental strategy and related reforms, manages critical corporate projects and provides strategic advice to the Secretary. The Group leads the provision of comprehensive advice and supports the Secretary and Departmental Leadership Team to enable effective strategic decision-making and execution of Departmental strategic plans and priorities.

Core functions comprise ministerial and parliamentary services; coordination of effective governance processes; media strategy and response; corporate, stakeholder and internal communications strategy and content; and leadership across priority corporate projects and change in initiatives

Primary purpose of the role

The Manager External Communications leads a team of subject matter specialists in delivery of communications advice, supports and services to the Department's Divisions and agencies. The role ensures that effective planning and prioritisation, resource allocation and technical capabilities are available to meet the needs of the Department to support branding, website content, social media strategy and assurance.

The Communications Unit operates on a highly collaborative basis, with the Manager External Communications leading relationships with a portfolio of Divisions and/or agencies within the Department and acting as the principal point of contact facilitating provision of the full range of Unit services. This requires close collaboration across the Communications Management team to ensure an effective response to client needs.

The Manager ensures the availability, prioritisation and currency of technical expertise, capability development and setting of performance expectations for team members.

Key accountabilities

- Manage a specialised external and corporate communications team to deliver advice, supports and services across DPIRD, delivering quality strategic external communications including development of communications strategies, copy writing, editing, speech writing, advertising, website content, and promotion of compliance with various communications policies and guidelines to support business outcomes aligned with Department and Government priorities and objectives.
- Develop and build a value-adding business partnership with a nominated portfolio of Clients across the Department, working closely with Executive Directors and Directors to establish the Communications Unit as a responsive and trusted provider of advice, a source of technical excellence and provider of value-adding solutions.
- Provide professional/technical leadership to team members, through prioritisation of workflows, setting quality and performance expectations and providing guidance and quality assurance.
- Maintain strong professional working relationships with client agencies, and with Media Units with a particular focus on assessing and understanding needs, identifying solutions, and evaluating satisfaction levels.
- Collaborate with Communications management peers to ensure that there is a planned response to needs across the Department, effective application and management of resources within the Branch, and optimum application of capabilities.
- Manage delivery of advice and services across DPIRD to achieve consistency and clarity in messaging, communication protocols, processes and methods.
- Encourage knowledge sharing and development of new ideas, initiatives, approaches or tools which provide opportunities for ongoing improvements in efficiency or effectiveness.
- Develop team members, identifying capability development needs, establishing proactive feedback processes, evaluating and manage team performance and effectiveness.

Key challenges

- Leading a cultural shift to a strong client-centered operating model while ensuring the efficient and effective use of resources, especially in a context of competing demands.
- Ensuring a highly collaborative leadership model which underpins the Unit's reputation and client perceptions as a value-adding trusted advisor and provider of quality services.
- Managing a well-planned flexible resourcing model to ensure the availability of experienced technical resources and perceived seamlessness in response to client needs.
