Agency overview

The Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development (DPIRD) is the department dedicated to growing primary industries and supporting regional economic development to deliver long term benefits to the state. Our focus is to protect, support and develop our primary industries, mining sector, and regions.

DPIRD brings together Agriculture and Biosecurity; Fisheries and Forestry; Local Land Services; NSW Resources; Regional Development and Delivery; the Regional Growth NSW Development Corporation; NSW Public Works and Soil Conservation Service.

We have nearly 5,000 employees, with almost 80 per cent of us living and working in regional NSW.

Local Land Services (LLS) is an Executive Agency related to the Department. It provides quality, customer-focused services to landholders and the community across New South Wales. This regionally based organisation brings together a wide range of service and advisory functions including agriculture, biosecurity, natural resource management, land management, biodiversity, emergency services and private native forestry.

Primary purpose of the role

The role delivers front line services to land managers and the community to care for, manage the use of, and maintain travelling stock reserves (TSR) within the region with a focus on protecting and enhancing social, cultural, environmental and production values. The role provides advice which contributes to the development of management plans, manages projects and activities to maintain and improve the value of TSR environmental and physical assets and infrastructure, issues permits, assesses conservation values and manages relationships with TSR lessees and stakeholders.

Key accountabilities

- Manage projects and implement plans and activities that ensure the region's travelling stock reserves are made available for appropriate access by the community, are used sustainably and are maintained in accordance with legislative obligations

- Collect and collate data, analyse information and provide accurate and appropriately balanced advice, reports and recommendations on the use and condition of travelling stock reserves
- Plan and implement programs and activities to control weeds and maintain infrastructure and assets including stockyards, stock watering holes, structures and fences, including managing contractors and/or Field Officers to perform work if required
- Provide advice on opportunities to create additional revenue generating activities and increase accessibility to travelling stock reserves and implement regional plans related to travelling stock reserve uses including leading competitive processes to source and secure commercial arrangements, issue permits and maintain relationships with lessees and permit holders to ensure contractual compliance
- Undertake assessments of travelling stock reserve conservation values and provide advice on, and implement, appropriate actions to maintain and/or improve conservation values
- Ensure that travelling stock reserves are maintained in readiness to support emergency management and control of livestock during natural disaster events and participate in other LLS emergency management prevention, preparedness, response and recovery activities

Key challenges

- Balancing a range of conflicting priorities and projects in an environment of high workload, rigorous accountability, strict deadlines and high community expectations
- Identifying and securing revenue whilst maintaining the integrity of environmental and cultural values and managing associated financial mechanisms and arrangements
- Managing conflicts and negotiating solutions which may arise as a result of the multiple use of travelling stock reserves
